CALL TO CONFERENCE

MARCH 15-17, 2015
RENAISSANCE PALM SPRINGS HOTEL – PALM SPRINGS, CA

INDIAN EDUCATION:
MEETING THE CHALLENGE!

38TH ANNUAL
CALIFORNIA CONFERENCE
ON AMERICAN INDIAN EDUCATION
Indian Education: Meeting the Challenge!

We invite you to attend the 38th Annual California Conference on American Indian Education, March 15-17, 2015, at the Renaissance Hotel in Palm Springs, CA. The conference theme is “Indian Education: Meeting the Challenge!” The conference will showcase 38 years of success and growth of American Indian education in California and the impact the American Indian Education Centers have had in American Indian communities.

This conference is made possible by the collaborative efforts of the American Indian Education Centers located statewide, endorsed by the California Department of Education, and many other supporters of American Indian education throughout California. Our hope is that your attendance at this year’s conference will be a positive experience and will result in lasting memories. We look forward to seeing you in Palm Springs. If you have any questions or would like clarification, please contact Irma Amaro at 530-895-4212 ext. 109 or by e-mail at irma.4winds@att.net, or Rachel McBride at 530-895-4212 ext. 110 or by e-mail at rachel.4winds@sbcglobal.net.

Respectfully,

Irma Amaro and Rachel McBride
Conference Co-Chairpersons

Endorsed by:
The California Department of Education
Purpose of the Conference
The 38th Annual California Conference on American Indian Education “Indian Education: Meeting the Challenge!” offers the opportunity to share traditional and academic teaching and learning. This conference honors the commitment of the family and all those who have contributed to the advancement of Indian Education in California.

Conference Goals
- To advocate academic excellence and educational opportunities for American Indian families, educators, tribal leaders, and board members;
- To provide opportunities for networking among American Indian families, elders, tribal leaders, students, and educators;
- To recognize achievements of distinguished educators parents, and students;
- To honor our elders, who are our most revered teachers.

Youth Track
We are pleased to announce that this year’s conference will again offer a youth track, with some great speakers and interactive activities.

Venida Chenault is a member of the Prairie Band Potawatomi and Kickapoo tribes. Dr. Chenault was selected as the seventh president of Haskell Indian Nations University on January 4, 2014, and is the first student of Haskell to become President.

Throughout her tenure in the faculty ranks at Haskell, she worked tirelessly in numerous administrative capacities and served on the Faculty Senate. She co-authored the proposal for the bachelor’s in American Indian Studies and is serving as the first interim director of American Indian Studies. Under her leadership Haskell received accreditation of the Elementary Teacher Education Program in 2013. She received numerous honors and awards including being selected as an American Indian College Fund Mellon Fellow, American Indian Leadership Award in 2005 from the University of Kansas Indigenous Studies Program, and being selected as the Recipient of the Haskell Outstanding Alumni of the Year Award for her contributions to Indian Education in the Spring of 2009.

Dr. Chenault is passionate about the importance of the opportunity a Haskell education provides. She is committed to ensuring students and graduates acquire the caliber of knowledge, skills, and degrees needed to provide high quality services in tribal and non-tribal organizations. She attributes her success to the start provided by Haskell. She follows the footsteps of many generations of her family, including her mother, uncles, sisters and brothers, and other extended family, which began their careers at Haskell. Dr. Chenault’s oldest sons and her daughter are also Haskell alumni, who take great pride in Haskell.

Dr. Chenault began her educational career at Haskell Indian Junior College where she attended in the Fall of 1975, and in the Spring of 1984. She transferred to the University of Kansas where she earned her Bachelor’s in Social Welfare and Master’s in Social Welfare in May 1990. In 2005 she completed her doctorate and was selected as the Vice-President of Academic Affairs. She is the mother of three adult sons and a daughter. She is also an adopted mother and grandmother in her tribe.
Kristy Orona-Ramirez has a minor in Native American studies. She has worked in the public school classroom for the past 16 years integrating topics concerning Native America into the California State Standards and now more recently, through the newly adopted Common Core Standards. Through the different academic genres of Literature and Language Arts, Mathematics, Disciplined Based Arts Education, History and Social Studies, and Science, she has successfully brought American Indian and Mexican Indian educational opportunities, helping to preserve cultural heritage, traditional belief systems, and values to those she has served.

She is the author of award winning, Kiki’s Journey (Lee and Low Books, 2006) and Reclamation Road, a chap book that is part of a Native American women’s poetry series (Coyotese Books, 2007). She has multiple publications of poetry in other magazines such as Red Ink and Indian Country Today. An adjunct instructor at Whittier College, she works with teachers in the Masters of Education program and is a current board member for the California Association for Teachers of English (CATE), where she serves as a member -at-large for middle school representation. She is a Teacher Consultant for the California Writing Project and received her fellowship for the writing project through the University of California, Riverside. Kristy is also the recipient of the James Irvine Fellowship, and she has been a mentor teacher for the San Marcos Writing Project. She has taught their yearly Young Writer’s Camp held in Poway, California where she has taught students at various grade levels and modeled lessons for other teachers. She currently teaches sixth grade in Riverside, CA. She is a member and lead singer for the all women’s northern drum group, The Mankillers, and is a jingle dress dancer. She has been a past presenter for the Medicine Ways Conference at the University of California, Riverside and enjoys volunteering at Sherman Indian High School. Leading a very active lifestyle with very active children, she finds time to be part of Native American organizations that promote health and physical fitness, also volunteering her time for the past several years to coach girls softball in her community.

Kristy's dedication to erasing Indian stereotypes, and other stereotypes that pertain to other cultural groups, has always remained in the forefront of her classroom curriculum. Kristy was instrumental in starting the discussion of changing her schools old school mascot, from a stereotypical Indian “warrior” and continued to express the need for the change. She was successful in her endeavors and now they are the “Wells Phoenix” instead of a “Wells Warrior.”

Kristy is a graduate of Humboldt State University and its nationally recognized American Indian education program, ITEPP (Indian Teacher Education Personnel Program). She lives in Riverside, California with her husband and 4 children.

CALL FOR STUDENT WRITING & PHOTOGRAPHY

The 38th Annual California Conference on American Indian Education is approaching quickly and, once again, we wish to showcase the writings of American Indian students from our state in a small booklet (chapbook) available to each participant who attends the conference. We are requesting poetry, short stories, and photography from all K-12 American Indian youth who reside in California. If possible, we would prefer black and white photographs but will accept color.

All submissions should address the conference theme “Indian Education: Meeting the Challenge!” Photographs and writings that demonstrate the power of intergenerational education, whether formal or cultural, are especially welcome.

Please inform your youth about their opportunity to have their work published and encourage them to submit their writings to:

American Indian Education Program
1919 B Street, Marysville, CA  95901
Phone: 530-749-6196 • Fax: 530-741-7840

Copyright will remain with the authors. Works submitted for publication will not be returned, therefore, please send copies only. Each youth who is published will receive two free chapbooks from the Conference Planning Committee. All works should be submitted for review by Friday, February 13, 2015. Along with each submission, please include the following information:

• Student Name
• Tribal Affiliation
• Age of Student
• Phone Number
• Name and address of sponsoring organization
  (i.e., Title VII, IEC, or school)

We are looking forward to publishing the writings and photographs of our American Indian youth. If you have any questions, please contact Pat Bennett at 530-749-6196.

Thank you,
The 38th Annual California Conference on American Indian Education Committee

The Indian Arts and Craft Act of 1990 shall apply to all arts and crafts vendors.

The Indian Arts and Crafts Act of 1990 (P.L. 101-644) is a truth-in-advertising law that prohibits misrepresentation in marketing of Indian arts and crafts products within the United States. It is illegal to offer or display for sale, or sell any art or craft product in a manner that falsely suggests it is Indian produced, an Indian product, or the product of a particular Indian or Indian Tribe or Indian arts and crafts organization, resident within the United States. Under the Act, an Indian is defined as a member of any federally or State recognized Indian Tribe, or an individual certified as an Indian artisan by an Indian Tribe.
